

Professional Bio for Tiffany Hodges

Tiffany received her BFA from Stephen F. Austin in Texas before spending a season at the prestigious Milwaukee Repertory Theater. In NYC, she improvised with more than 10,000 audience members in the interactive adventure, Accomplice New York and Accomplice The Village as well as performing in many new plays at Upright Citizen's Brigade, The Fringe Festival, The Midtown Festival and the PDW Festival at The Actor's Studio. On screen, Tiffany can be seen in The Perfect Witness starring Wes Bentley on Amazon and iTunes, as a nurse of her namesake on ABC's One Life To Live, as Alana Robbins in CBS' Blue Bloods and as a co-host of NYCTV's Profiles. She also writes for the stage and screen with plays developed at The Bridge, Urban Artist's Collective, and The Actor's Studio. Today she is the head writer and co-star of the new comedy series in development, Tick Tock. You can learn more about this project at TickTockSeries.com and keep up with all of her work at TiffanyHodges.com.
